It is estimated that 50,000 people witnessed the display of fireworks in the evening No serious accident marred the general enjoyment of the day

POLITICAL NOTES

The Richmond Whig wishes the Southern people to keep aloof from the next National Democratic Convention, because when the two parties have made their nominations and announced their platforms they can choose between them

From the Jacksonville Times There are nine Democratic papers published in Western Oregon, to-wit the Times, Plaindealer, Guard, Benton Democrat States Rights Democrat Mercury Enterprise, Era, and Herald Of these nine the Herald and Mercury alone have taken the "new departure" from the Democratic party How is that for high?

Hon George W Morgan of Ohio has opened the campaign on the Democratic side with a long speech, in which he makes Mr. Lincoln responsible for the war because he did not arrest and imprison the Southern born army officers instead of accepting their resignations If Mr Lincoln had done this what a howl the Northern Democracy would have set up!

The Walla Walla Statesman thinks that the present principles of its party are an "unsavory dose" It says We once knew a child that cried for "castor oil," and it must have been a like perversion of taste that led our Democratic friends of California to so eagerly swallow the prescription of the Ohio medicos We trust that the medicine will set well on their stomachs and that when the returns of the ball election begin to come in it will be found that the remedy alone was the herbinger of victory

That very happy family, the Ohio Democracy, is now engaged in solving the pleasing conundrum, "Who was nominated for Governor by the Democrats?" "Gen McCook received the official certificate of nomination but the friends of "Gen" Thomas Ewing—an older and more popular man—claim to have six fully sheets, kept by as many experienced members of the Convention showing that the majority of votes was really given to Ewing This, we submit is carrying Tammany tactics too far The cheating ought to be reserved until the enemy is met If the Democracy can't have honor among'—themselves, there is an end to all proper and successful frauds upon the common foe

Bidding farewell to Chief Justice Chase on his departure from the Republican party, the Boston Journal says He is as far from us as Andrew Johnson is whether he has traveled the same road or not Farewell to the resolute champion of our organization in its early day —farewell to the hand that added the closing invocation to the draft of Abraham Lincoln's great proclamation of emancipation The departure will make no difference to Republicans of the Union whether it will be of any benefit to Mr Chase remains to be seen " And after viewing the field, the Journal says that it does not think that the nomination of Judge Chase for the Presidency by the Democrats is very probable or if it were, would be at all dreaded by the Republicans

A Precarious Peace

A correspondent of the London Times writing from Berlin, gives an account of the return of German troops through the principal cities to their homes and adds that there is a deep seated conviction among them that the contest with France is not decisive and is to be renewed We quote the following from the letter

It deserves to be chronicled that Gen Von Kirchbach the Commander of the 11th Corps d Armee, in reply to the Posen Magistrate who received him at the gate of the city gave it as his deliberate opinion that the French would renew the contest in a very few years The same melancholy prognostics were yesterday uttered in my presence by one of the leading strategists of the war, who however, qualified his remark by the hope that a strong and vigorous Government might succeed in restraining the passions of that excitable race A similar feeling seems to be widely prevalent among the soldiers as well as the people There is observable everywhere the same absence of rejoicing, the same calm and serious tone which has characterised the nation ever since Sedan What a terrible war! And what a doubtful peace!

The Suckling Democracy

[From the Jacksonville Sentinel

The new departure of the rebel Democracy means, if the dear people will only give them office, they will pretend to be good Republicans They will swallow everything that they have denounced for the last ten years if the dear people will only give them the loaves and fishes They are like unto the anecdote of Governor Barber of Virginia, during the war of 1812 It was rumored that the British were marching on Richmond, and Governor Barber issued a proclamation calling on the citizens of Virginia to rush to the army and to save their capital from the invaders The old farmers true to their instincts without waiting for the Government to furnish them good horses mounted their brood mares that had young colts After they reached Richmond the Governor made a forced night march down the James river towards the enemy Early in the morning there was a tremendous whinnying and neighing in the army The Governor rode up along the line at full speed and shouted at the top of his voice Suckle colts gentlemen suckle colts. The Democrats want to suck The rebel Democrats have been marched far away from the public tit for the last ten years They are very hungry It is with them now Good Lord give us any kind of principles so you get us the public tit

Nearly ten years ago the Southern States seceded The Democracy shouted It is unconstitutional! unconstitutional and tyrannical to coerce a State! Still the war progressed, and the people declared it constitutional and the only way to save the Union In January 1863 Mr Lincoln declared in his emancipation proclamation that slavery should no longer exist Democracy solemnly resolved it was unconstitutional and void Near the end of the war, the Democracy met at Chicago to nominate a Utah fake to run against Mr Lincoln for President and they solemnly resolved everything the Republicans had done was unconstitutional, and that the war was a failure and ought to cease During the last Presidential canvass, Frank Blair, the Democratic candidate for Vice President in his celebrated letter to Col Brodhead declared the Executive should disregard the reconstruction acts of Congress and declare them unconstitutional and void A little over a year ago, the Oregon rebels met at Salem, and declared the 9th of the Blair letter to be true, and that the national debt ought to be repudiated, and with lying, trickery and fraud, elected a Congressman and a United States Senator

Now the late Conventions of Ohio New Hampshire, Iowa and California have taken a "new departure" and endorsed the substance of the late Vallandigham resolutions, which were first introduced in the Convention of Montgomery county, Ohio A large portion of these resolutions are good sound Republican principles, with the usual Democratic thunder of unconstitutionality

The truth is, Blair, who preaches war against the late constitutional amendments, Pendleton, who with the Oregon Democrats preaches repudiation are no longer to control the hungry Democrats Therefore Democrats and old time-honored Democrats must give way to the hungry office-seeking Democrats They must suck They will lead the Democracy in the next National Convention, and they will repudiate even in Oregon their last set of State resolutions and endorse the Republican principles with some high-sounding words of unconstitutionality The Democracy must suck, or be continually whimpying or whining, regardless of principle

Wonderful Electrical Phenomena

A correspondent of the Baker City Democrat writes the following under date of June 13th

Our tent is pitched about four hundred yards below the Clover Forry on Snake river The surrounding country gives evidences of an early spring as the grass has fully matured, giving the hills a brown tinge The river is rising rapidly The weather is oppressively warm I think a thermometer would indicate 120 degrees in the shade The heat was so intense that the miners on the Bar refused to labor When I asked one of them if this was a fair sample of the weather in this locality, he replied, No, and with a shrug of the shoulders and a twinkle in his eye he continued "I think Summerfield must have thrown the fatal pill into the Pacific" At 7 P M a cloud arose to the south of us, and distant thunder was heard and all rejoiced at the prospect of rain The cloud rapidly increased in size, and density, and gradually approached us At 8 P M it had reached to the northward of us Electrical discharges were frequent and the thunder shook the earth While five of us were witnessing this grand pyrotechnic display of nature, a flash intensely bright zigzagged down the side of a mountain, distant about half a mile The thunder instantly pealed forth a terrific shock, and before its reverberations had died away in the distance, we discovered the grass on fire on the mountain side directly in the track of the electrical current The question arose Had the lightning set the grass on fire? My companion remarked If there were any hostile Indians in this vicinity I should regard it as a signal fire Before we had time to reply to his remarks another discharge came down a hillside two hundred yards nearer to us Again the grass was ignited While expressing our astonishment at this phenomenon another discharge descended the hillside parallel to the preceding current and again the burning grass marked its course This was soon followed by many of us Inside of ten minutes the grass was three times set on fire by electricity The same phenomenon occurred once during the same storm, on Mr Edleman's ranch one mile up the river While we were witnessing the freaks of electricity on the north side of the river a fire burst forth on the south side From a deep gorge a few hundred yards below camp a dense smoke came rolling down to the river, showing that the storm king had been playing his pranks there, too A smart shower of rain soon extinguished the fires dissipated the smoke and purified and cooled the atmosphere rendering sleep enjoyable in our tent

After witnessing the above I am convinced that all the fires in the mountains are not attributable to Indians careless prospectors and campers

Mr VALLANDIGHAM —In the course of an editorial, the New York Independent truthfully says

Whatever may have been the personal qualities of Mr Vallandigham in the private relations of life there is no escaping the conclusion that if he was right in the course which he pursued during the war, then the nation was monstrously and wickedly wrong in its course He took sides with the rebellion gave it all his sympathies opposed all the war measures of the Government and did everything in his power except actual fighting to make the rebellion a success and the war for the Union a failure In short, he was a rebel in feeling as strictly as Jefferson Davis or General Lee His conduct leaves not the slightest room for doubt upon this point No sympathy for him sleeping in his grave, can ever change the fact, or modify its moral features that he placed himself practically with the enemies of his country in the hour when it most needed friends Those who eulogize the man dead must of course, approve of the man living In a word commendation of Mr Vallandigham whether living or dead, is necessarily condemnation of the Government and the people for putting down the rebellion by force of arms

Antagonisms of cities and country have disappeared, true France has appeared

The siege will probably be raised to morrow

The French Elections

PARIS, July 5 —A general estimate of the supplementary election shows that of 140 Deputies elected, 120 are Republicans, 8 Legitimists and 2 Bonapartists Official returns will differ but little from this estimate Faidherbe Gambetta and Danfort are returned from three different Arrondissements The majority of the Republicans elected belong to the moderate wing of the party the proportion being 75 moderate to 25 radicals The unexpected strength developed by the Republicans in the provinces discourages the partisans of monarchy The failure of the Imperial interest surprises nobody, but the weakness of the Legitimists produces a sensation It is feared the Assembly will be more divided than ever, that it will be impossible to obtain a compact, working majority, or to determine which party has the balance of power

The French Government has demanded an early evacuation of the forts near Paris and of the departments occupied by Germans Bismarck declines to give positive promise to comply with the demand.

A Commission has been appointed by the Government to take evidence in England and France as to the working of commercial treaties.

Republicans rejoice over the overwhelming vote for candidates of their party in country districts and regard the victory as calculated to establish permanently a Republic in France The monarchical press, on the other hand, show signs of a panic, and accuse each other of lack of devotion and energy in the canvass

The Presse and Siecle resume publication to-morrow

Faidherbe has written a letter proposing a system of compulsory service in the army for two years

Fire at Yreka.

YREKA, Cal., July 5 —An extensive conflagration occurred in this place yesterday afternoon commencing at 3 o'clock It originated in a small China wash house on Miner street opposite the old Yreka hotel From the time the alarm was given scarcely eight minutes was occupied in the flames extending four or five blocks everything being as dry as tinder, owing to the continued hot weather Both engine companies were promptly put to work The flames swept in vast sheets from house to house Miner street from Cleiland & Walbridge's store to the creek on the south side, including the Odd Fellows Hall, Union Hotel and several brick stores are all in ruins except Lauer's building, Ringo & Rees's which are considerably damaged The Union printing office escaped, with some little damage, but the Bank Exchange saloon underneath was gutted On the North side of Miner street from Third to Yreka creek is in ruins including the Colton Theater By extraordinary exertions the force of the fire was checked at Third street, thus saving the telegraph office, No 1 engine house, Franco-American Hotel, the Journal printing office, Masonic Hall and several other brick buildings above Third street The Postoffice store and Cleiland & Albridge's are severely damaged by fire and water and in the rear of Huseman's, Harker's and other buildings above Fourth street, on Miner street, much damage was done to out houses and sheds From Miner street southward the fire extended beyond Butte street destroying stables, blacksmith shops, foundry and several hundred cords of fire wood also the Metropolitan school house the Catholic church, and damaging the Sisters' Academy to some extent Some 15 or 16 blocks were destroyed and many of the inmates were unable to get out even their clothes, so rapidly did the flames extend

The firemen did all that was possible for men to do The engines had too large a field of fire to use their streams to successful advantage for a long time, and the hook and ladder company pulled down buildings and fences in all directions to check the spread of the fire. It is impossible at present to fully estimate the losses but at least one third of the town is destroyed The property destroyed will foot up probably more than $300,000 on which there is about $10 000 insurance The firemen are still at work this morning quenching the fires to get out safes The Board of Trustees meet this morning to order the dangerous brick walls of some 18 or 20 of the burned buildings to be pulled down A number had their hands and faces burned in endeavoring to save property, and the fire companies lost considerable hose They were unable to get it away from the fire Some horses were burned and all four of the livery stables

The women worked heroically in packing goods from stores and dwellings and about two thirds of the families had their household goods out of doors before the fire was checked The town this morning presents a desolate looking appearance, several acres of ground being an open space of burning embers

Some men move through life as a band of music moves down the street—flinging out pleasure on every side through the air to every one, far and near, who can listen Some men fill the air with their presence and sweetness, as orchards in October days fill the air with the perfume of ripe fruit Some women cling to their own houses like the honeysuckle over the door, yet like it fill all the region with the subtle fragrance of their goodness. How great a bounty and blessing it is to hold the royal gifts of the soul that they shall be music to some and fragrance to others and life to all It would be no unworthy thing to live for, to make the power which we have within us the breath of other men's joy to fill the atmosphere which they must stand in with a brightness which they cannot create for themselves.

James Barclay, one of the men who was imprisoned at Fort Klamath by order of Capt G Jale has commenced suit against the Captain in the Circuit Court for Jackson county in the sum of $10 000 for false imprisonment.

Indians at the Umatilla reservation celebrated the Fourth of July Their lands are being surveyed and segregated, each head of a family will hereafter occupy and cultivate his own land, and the habits of citizens and of civilization will be adopted

In parts of Klamath burn beetles and crickets are appearing in immense numbers and are very destructive to grain and all small vegetables except peas They are so numerous that small creeks have become dammed with their dead bodies and the stench is awful

The hail storm which recently passed over a part of Douglas county also touched a portion of Josephine In the last named county pieces of hail were picked up which were two inches in circumference Some of these stones came down with such force that they penetrated the ground to the depth of four inches The large trees in the track of the storm were completely stripped of leaves and small branches

The injuries received by the editor of the Statesman from Editor Walker's murderous attack are so severe that he has left Dr Belt, Payton and Fisk are in attendance cessation from business is necessary In the meantime Walker is residing in the provinces discourages the partisans of monarchy The failure of the Imperial interest surprises nobody, but the weakness of the Legitimists produces a sensation It is feared the Assembly will be more divided than ever, that it will be impossible to obtain a compact, working majority, or to determine which party has the balance of power

The Walla Walla Union says We hear that the greater portion of the Umatilla Reservation are adverse to the Government They accuse the value of their lands are false We hear that they are making good crops this season The allotment lately made, throws them out of what was supposed to be their cultivation

The Land Office at Walla Walla opened on the 17th July

The steam fire engine which was shipped from New York on the Steadman was stolen by some miscreants

Stealing bee hives is a business in Walla Walla The bees will probably be stolen by the same committee.

At Warren's Diggings on Burnt river a man named Isenbeck was robbed of his gum No clue to the robber

The land disposed of at the Walla Walla office during the month of June consisted of 1,284 acres More than one half of the sales were for cash

The Walla Walla Statesman says that in its section not a single case of larceny has occurred for a long time, and the people are not in the habit of loc

California Republicans

The Republican party of California is in better condition, and enters the political contest of this year with a more united front and better hopes than at any time since 1865. All animosities are subdued and dissensions buried, and an earnest purpose to work for victory pervades the whole party There was a contest between the friends of Booth and the friends of Selby as to which of these two should head the ticket as the candidate for Governor, but it was a contest without asperity, and the nomination of Booth was heartily acquiesced in by Selby and his friends who pledged to Booth their hearty support The best of feeling was manifested in the Convention and afterwards There is no 'bolting,' nor even a single voice in opposition to the ticket presented All the great newspapers, including the Sacramento Union, the San Francisco Bulletin and Alta, give the ticket their powerful support The influences antagonistic to the Gorham ticket four years ago, are now most vigorously and energetically at work for Booth. The platform is generally commended, and the contest is likely to be a fair trial of strength between the two parties, with a full vote on both sides The election will take place the first Wednesday in September Besides a full State ticket three members of Congress will be chosen and a Legislature which will elect a Senator to succeed Cornelius Cole

Four years ago we had no hope of California Though there was an actual Republican majority of many thousands in the State, the nomination of Gorham upset everything, and it was evident from the start that the leading Republican journals repudiated him and appealed to the people to prevent his election Under these circumstances the case was hopeless Defeat followed as a matter of course Since then the party has drilled in a united effort, but now it is not so, and the prospect is regarded by all as very hopeful

In the other hand there is not perfect unity among the Democrats, and some have bolted on high Gov. Haight's course has been inconsistent and indefensible, and he is being attacked with great effect All the enthusiasm that has been manifested so far is on the Republican side We do not anticipate an easy victory, yet we do not see why we may not count with considerable certainty on a Republican triumph. Such a result in all forms would electrify the Pacific States and be felt throughout the whole country as a rebuke and greatly aid us in redeeming the State from rings and plunderers, who are doing business in the name of Democracy, which it is our duty next year In this, however we shall succeed, let the result in California be what it may. The Republican spirit in our State is unusually buoyant and there is a general feeling that next year the State will be ours

Return of Senator Corbett.

The secretary of Senator Corbett in attending to business at Washington is proverbial When ever the welfare of his State demands finds in him an enterprising advocate. Business is never referred to him more than once, if it is possible for him to transact it, it is done No Senator works harder or with more untiring assiduity He is always at his post, is vigilant, and convinces tact and address in the transaction of business These things can be said of Senator Corbett with perfect truth and with all the semblance of adulation He does his duty in a quiet, unostentatious way and the gush and perhaps others have differed with him upon a few measures, no one has questioned the integrity of his purposes As an earnest supporter of the principles of the Republican party he has the general confidence of Republicans throughout the State, and will, we doubt not, render valuable service to the party in securing its triumph in the State election next June, and in carrying Oregon for the Republican candidate for President in November following He will probably remain in Oregon for several months returning to Washington in time for the next session of Congress, which opens in December

Here is a puzzle or two for Gov Grover To you, sir, as Executive of the State of Oregon pro to remain in official position, as superintendent of the Penitentiary and keeper of criminals a man who with murder in his heart waits for attacks, and tries to kill another and is accomplishing his murderous purpose Do you propose to hold this man up to cover him with the shield of Executive influence and thus bid defiance to an outraged public, —and all because this man is your partisan and a necessary instrument of the party of which you are the head? Be assured that the people of Oregon will hold you responsible for this A wanton assault and an attempt to kill, which fails only by a miracle, but disables the intended victim, is a crime, Gov Grover, though committed by your henchman! You may protect him by your influence and authority, but you cannot protect yourself from popular condemnation.

One of the immediate effects of the "new departure doctrine, observes the Sacramento Union is the sending back from the Democratic party to the Republican thousands of old line Whigs This is what is now taking place in Kentucky on a great scale, and the Baltimore American believes the example will very soon be extended to Maryland and Delaware In Georgia the old Whigs talk of drawing out boldly from the Democracy, and is absorbed them in 1853–54 and reorganizing They became Democrats' says the Union speaking of the Whigs of Maryland and Kentucky, "because of emancipation and negro suffrage, which the new departure have no longer at issue"

Hon Galusha A Grow, who has been for thirty years a leading Republican of Pennsylvania, and one of the men to whom the Republican party is largely indebted for its great triumphs, arrived by the steamer on Monday Yesterday he went to Salem, but will return in a day or two Mr Grow was elected Speaker of the House of Representatives in 1861 His services in organizing and leading up the great Republican party from the year 1854 to the election of Lincoln in 1860 were especially conspicuous, and gave him a national reputation

A table has been prepared at the office of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, showing the amount due the Government from Collectors of Internal Revenue from appointees of Lincoln, $90,508 is due from appointees of Johnson and $4 81 from appointees of Grant This shows what a profligate and corrupt administration Johnson's was. Nothing is due from ex-Collectors in Oregon,

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 5 —The Democratic Independent or Citizens' Committee is in secret session this evening

Attempts to sell stocks on the street to-day were mostly failures, nobody caring to operate outside the Board

The Italian Republican Club have had a flag flying at intervals for the last five years with the inscription "Viva L'Italia Roma Capitale" On the occupation of Rome by Victor Emanuel last Sunday, they hoisted this flag over their club room on Montgomery street and have had it flying night and day since To-day some threats were made that the flag would be hauled down, which excited the Italians to perfect fury, and they rallied in large force this evening and commenced shouting and hurrahing, which drew a large crowd They are now parading the streets with music, carrying Italian and American flags, and shouting "a Bas el Pope, Viva Garibaldi" As they are all armed the chances of their being seriously disturbed are small.

News has been received that the bark B U M S of this port, on the way here from Callao was wrecked at Cerro Isle She was loaded with sugar and consigned to Parrott & Co She was owned by the same parties who owned the brig Kentucky, recently lost in a hurricane near the Feejee islands

A fire occurred before day break this morning on Mission street near First A boarding house known as the Dungan House, was nearly destroyed Dennis Ahea, a boarder, after saving his wife and children went back to save his money and was burned to death

Isaac Brooks is the man shot in the mouth, on Dupont street yesterday morning, by Nicholas Violich He is reported dying

Dr Barstow, who shot himself last week, in the head, is reported recovering, though the ball is in his brain.

Fire in Grass Valley

GRASS VALLEY, July 5 —This morning at 7 o'clock the alarm of fire was sounded Gad & Co's large clothing store, corner of Main and Mill streets, was on fire The fire caught inside the building and made considerable headway before it was discovered The prompt action of the firemen confined the flames to the building in which the fire origina ed. The whole stock was damaged. The loss of clothing amounts probably to $10 000, and was insured. Scadden and Frenberth's building adjoining Gad's was slightly damaged Morris H Joseph's stock was much damaged by water inside Total loss $15 000

NEVADA.

Fire at White Pine

HAMILTON, July 5.—Dunn & McCone's mill situated in the canyon leading from Hamilton to Eberhardt, was totally destroyed by fire last evening The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary, as no fire had been used in or about the mill for some time past There being no facilities at hand no effort was made to extinguish the flames. The mill was worth about $30,000, and a short time since was under insurance, but it is thought the policy has now run out.

Virginia & Gold Hill Railway Accident.

RENO, July 5 —A water spout burst in the mountains, 14 miles west of Reno, last evening and washed a great quantity of earth and small rock on the track of the C P R R About 9 P M the freight train coming east at the rate of 12 miles an hour, ran into the slide, the engineer not being able to see it in time to stop the train The engine jumped the track and ran some 30 feet down the embankment, maintaining its upright position The tender was upset No one was injured. The train bound west left here at 6 30 A M.

Mining Intelligence

OPHIR CITY, July 5 —A large subterranean cave was discovered two days since in an extension of the Sunnyside mine, and was explored for several hundred feet.

The amount of ore now on the dumps of mines on Lion Hill alone is 6,000 tons, now awaiting the completion of stamp mills here. The average value of this amount is not less than $150 per ton. The Sunnyside is now considered the best mine on that hill. Its dump contains 12 tons of $1,000 ore, four tons of $1,500 ore, and 100 tons of $150 ore. A large number of excellent mines are idle awaiting the completion of reduction facilities.

A prize fight for $250 a side was fought yesterday between Ed Fitzgerald and Joe Finz, both of Colorado Twenty two rounds were fought Fitzgerald was knocked out of time in thirty five minutes.

The Boston Post (Dem) scolds Jeff Davis and entreats him to be silent. It says his speeches are calculated "to paralyze the Democracy." Why? There can be but one answer Simply because there is a general conviction in the public mind that Jeff Davis and the Democratic party have the same purposes in view Hence, when Jeff. Davis blurts them out, it "paralyzes" the party. If there were no connection between the Democratic party and Jeff. Davis it would not matter a particle to the former what the latter might say.

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 6, 1871

CITY.

CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH.—In this city the usual holiday was rather a quiet day. As was fired and the fire bells were rung at sunrise. The militia companies—Washington Guard and Guard—and the Mexican veterans formed a procession at ten o'clock, headed by the Infantry band, and after marching through some of our principal streets, crossed the river to Portland Here there was some attempt at a procession of citizens, but the effort was a failure. Everybody preferred to go to the Park at their leisure and in their own way. The crowd, however, assembled at the Park at the hour announced for the opening of the exercises, and the programme, as heretofore announced, was carried out. Mr Mitchell delivered an oration of considerable length—an able production. There was plenty of music by the East Side band—the 23d being employed by the Guard—and after the other exercises were over there were some attempts at dancing on the grand stand, but the crowd pushed people on to the stand, and as dancing does not admit of too much indiscriminate jostling, the saltatory exercises were limited to a very few people, and that few did not persist very long in the effort. Some shots got up on his ears at about half past 4, and took a few laborious and uncertain steps forward, when the wire broke and down came Shots, wire, balance pole and all the ears damaged, the pole was not Moses, and the breath knocked out of him, and for a time was not capable of stating coherently what he wanted his heirs and executors to do with his effects. The undertaker, however, as the Mons. conclnded to "come to" and see what the papers had to say of him His demise and a "crowner's quest" in the shape of "died of wire walking" are post mortem, merely. About the only other amusement of considerable indulgence in that, though there was very little drunkenness of the disorderly type, the liquor mostly went to the musical department of the head From ten o'clock till late in the evening the ferry boat was thronged—often dangerously—by people going to or returning from the park. There were probably four or five thousand people on the ground at one time during the day, though the whole number of visitors probably exceeded that figure

In Oregon City, we are told, there were about fifteen hundred people assembled There were salutes at sunrise, noon and sunset, a procession at 10 A. M., and the usual exercises on the grounds—oration by J F Caples of The great blasts on the opposite side of the river did not go off on account of there being no fuse in the drill holes The regular exercises off pleasantly and without accident, and the young people closed the day with a ball under the auspices of the Fire Department

Multnomah Engine Company, of this city, made an excursion to Salem, by invitation of the Department of that town, and the boys who went yesterday report a good time both by the way and at Salem

On the mountaintops, near Marquam's, quite a number of people assembled to hear an oration by A C Moreland, Esq, after which the faculty of a splendid dinner, and they also had a prevalence of the spirit of seventy six, and a consequent good time.

Quite many of our citizens with families or friends, went picnicking into the woods; they had a glorious good time.

A picnic of Washington county celebrated at Ferry. The place selected was Scholls which was cleared of all underbrush and limbs out off to the height of eight feet, there were eight hundred persons present, an oration was delivered by Hon W D Hare; pronounced one of his best efforts. Declaration of Independence was read by J. Esq One of the chief attractions was a lady Car, drawn by four beautiful white ponies, the car sat the Goddess of Liberty, and by young ladies representing every State and Territory in the Union There was a display of eight pieces which enlivened the day by many well selected airs The whole passed off by fire works and dancing in the evening.

ACCIDENT ON THE FOURTH.—A team belonging to Stott Brothers & Fisher, ran away on Monday with a buggy in consequence of becoming frightened at fire crackers They upset the buggy and broke up a group of children, but singularly enough only one was hurt.

A boy about seven years old, son of Capt. Lane was thrown from a carriage near the Fair Ground, on the Fourth, by the sudden starting of a horse One of the wheels passed over his fellow and he was considerably hurt, but escaped, not seriously.

About seven o'clock in the evening, soon after Capt. Starr and family had returned to their home at the southeast corner of Columbia and Front, their little boy, Addison M, eight years old, was seated in the front door picking the head of fire-crackers Suddenly he put one in his mouth and cried out, "O, papa, papa!" Mr. Starr was reclining on a lounge in the room, and Mrs Starr was in an adjoining room. As soon as the word was given both rushed to their son, who was found bleeding profusely from the mouth A physician was summoned in haste, and an examination proved that he had been shot by a cartridge pistol ball, which took effect in the lower jaw, passing through the tongue and into the fleshy part of the throat where it was extracted, but it leaves a very ugly looking wound. The shot is mysterious, and cannot be accounted for on the ground that the boy had carelessly fired off a pistol to himself, and had accidentally hit the boy in the throat, as that needs investigation

THE SCANDINAVIAN CHURCH.—Rev. Mr. Fridstrom of the Scandinavian Church desires to return thanks for the assistance his congregation rendered him in forwarding work on their church building. The Congregational Association of this city donated the pews, pulpit, singers' gallery, etc., of its old church, which are quite complete and well adapted for use. Mr C B Stark has also prepared without charge a basement of the Scandinavian Church building and paid one-fifth of the cost. A day will soon be appointed to lay the corner stone

A WALK OF 106 HOURS.—Mr Jack Sheppard started at 12 o'clock, noon, yesterday upon his advertised walk of one hundred and six consecutive hours without rest or sleep. The feat is to be accomplished at Tammany Club Room, over Joe Kelly's saloon, on Washington street between First and Second. The allotted time will not expire till 10 o'clock next Sunday night From Monday noon till 10 P M Sunday! No rest, no sleep, no stop! That beats the journey over Cascades, a few

A SERIES OF FREE LECTURES.—To morrow evening Mr F Campbell, President of Christian College at Monmouth, will commence the delivery of a series of free lectures at the Baptist Church, corner of Fourth and Alder streets in front of the first lecture "Man—the Darwinian theory, Moses' theory" The lecturer will begin at 8 o'clock. The subject of the succeeding lectures will be announced from day to day Everybody cordially invited to attend.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT A GRAVING DOCK.—About noon yesterday a Chinaman was killed by being caved in by a high bank near the head of Washington street. Another Chinaman at work with him was badly crushed, but perhaps not fatally. They were employed in making an excavation, and working the face of the bank twelve or fifteen feet in height when a large cave took place suddenly and caught them.

THE CONGREGATIONALISTS — The Home Missionary Committee of the Congregational Church of Oregon and Washington Territory invite any Congregationalists within these bounds, who desire to connect themselves with the church, or to have meetings should be held within their neighborhood, to correspond with said committee, of which Rev Dr Atkinson is Chairman, and A Lawrence Secretary. Address them at Portland

EXCURSION TO THE STEAMER YAKIMA.—On Saturday afternoon, while on the way up the Columbia river, the Yakima broke her shaft and, consequently, returned to Celilo yesterday with the engine. Her freight and passengers will be transferred to the Tenino, leaving Celilo for Lewiston this evening Passengers will leave Portland this morning to connect There will be no delay from Celilo on Saturday

LANDS TO BE SOLD.—We call attention to Mr Richardson's advertisement of valuable lands to be sold at auction on Saturday, July 8th at the Washington and another in Clackamas county.

TEAMSTERS.—Two drivers are wanted on the N P R R. A dozen can find employment by apply at Hale's Camp on the Cowlitz

FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamship Oriflamme will sail for San Francisco at seven o'clock P. M. to-day.

EXCURSION TO SALEM

THE TRIP OF MULTNOMAH ENGINE COMPANY NO 2—THE FOURTH AT THAT CITY—NOTES BY THE WAY.

Early Tuesday morning the members of Multnomah Engine Co No. 2 of this city met at their hall, and after donning their uniform and arranging their engine and hose carriage, proceeded by way of Oak, First, Washington and Front streets to the railroad ferry, which promptly left the wharf for the temporary station on the East Side The engine and carriage safely placed on a car, the order for "all aboard" was given The train being chartered by the Company but few persons besides the invited guests and the Company were on board At Oregon City the Firemen of that town with their band playing were drawn up at the depot to greet the Portlanders Three cheers and a response and we were off for Salem. The Aurora Band being engaged, the train was stopped there Mayor Wasserman of Portland came upon the scene at this point, and moved away. Arriving at the Salem depot the Company were met by the Fire Department of the Capital, who took charge of the Company's apparatus and escorted them to the public square, where, after a short delay, the grand procession was formed which proceeded down State street to Commercial, thence to Marion Grove, in the following order Marshal of the Day J J Murphy, Lead, and assistants Tom Reynolds, Leq Jerry Patterson, Leq, H H Gilfrey, Esq, on horseback, Webfoot Band Governor Grover, Secretary of State, Chadwick, Judge Boise Rev C. C Stratton, Hon B. F Bonham, T H Cann and others Chief Engineers of the Salem and Portland Fire Departments and their Assistants, Foremen of Capitol Tiger and Alert companies of Salem and Multnomah, Willamette, Protection and Hook and Ladder companies of Portland, the Capital Engine Co, Tiger Engine and Hose Co Alert Hook and Ladder Co, Liberty Car containing young ladies, dressed in white representing the States of the Union Aurora Brass Band, Multnomah Engine and Hose Co, the rear being brought up by citizens in carriages. Arriving at the Park a meeting was organized After prayer by Rev C C Stratton, Governor Grover, President of the day, in a few remarks, presented Judge Boise, orator of the day, who spoke for almost an hour. The Declaration of Independence was next read by Hon B F Bonham, the meeting closing with singing by the Salem Musical Union On the grounds the Flying Horse and other amusements, together with soda water men, were at the disposal of the many visitors from the country and the city folks After the meeting the Multnomah boys were escorted to town and their apparatus housed with appropriate ceremonies They next repaired to the Chemeketa House, where a dinner, given by the Salem Fire Department, was in readiness A short wait and the Company sat down to an elegant repast Every body being rather hungry, the good things were disposed of with little ceremony Toasts were proposed and responded to, and happy speeches were made by S. Pennoyer, A C Ripley and Ben. Nordon, Esqs, of Portland, and several gentlemen of Salem. Dinner over, the boys took a stroll about town During the afternoon, a masquerading party, calling themselves the "Ugly Plugs," made their appearance on the streets and created much amusement A party, later in the day, personating Shultz admirably, appeared upon the streets, and it was only the shouts of the crowds that prevented the policemen from capturing him At 7 o'clock the Multnomah boys placed their engine near the Chemeketa House and were soon throwing water over that building and down the street The Salem companies also engaged in the "drill" with their respective engines

The day closed with a ball given by the Tiger Hose Company, to which the visitors were invited. The affair closed at a late hour, and all went home tired out

At 8 o'clock in the morning the Portland boys, escorted by several members of the Salem Department, wended their way to the depot The train coming along the boys took leave of Salem and were soon moving rapidly away on the trip homeward. The band played, the boys sang, and had a jolly good time generally Arriving at the ferry landing, they were met by a band of music and marched through several streets to their house and then dispersed All the boys say they were highly pleased with the treatment extended to to them by the Salem Fire Department and the citizens of that city.

During our stay in Salem we picked up a few items of interest The election of Chief Engineer and Assistant of the Fire Department was held on Monday, resulting in the success of J G Wright for Chief, and A J. Brown for Assistant.

The skating rink is doing a good business

Mlle. Jeal & Co.'s circus is to enter town on the 8th.

The Chemeketa House, R P Earhart, Esq, may be safely called the finest house in the State Everything is arranged for the convenience of guests, and the table is supplied with all that could be desired by the most fastidious. During June there were 850 arrivals at this hotel.

Sam. Clarke has gone to Astoria He is suffering from nervous prostration, caused by the late unpleasantness between himself and Watkinds.

One of the most clever gentlemen I met with was T B. Rickey, Postmaster, and your agent at Salem Rickey keeps things in trim, and is always ready to oblige one and all.

Business is said to be dull at present

A GUEST.

PERSONAL.

Hon John A Bingham M C from the 16th District of Ohio, is en route to this city overland from California. He will stop at Salem a few days to visit some friends and relations

We met yesterday with a couple of gentlemen of the name of Smith—brothers—friends of Rev T L. Eliot, who very recently arrived out from St Louis to look at the country On Tuesday they took a trip by the O & C Railroad to Harrisburg, and we are pleased to learn from them they were very agreeably impressed with what they saw of the valley.

In the New York Times of the 19th of June, we find a notice of the death at New York city, June 16th, of Mrs Isabel Joynt, wife of Oron Joynt, formerly of this city.

Mrs Belle W. Cooke, authoress of a handsome little volume of poems entitled "Tears and Victory, and other poems," is canvassing in this city for the sale of her book, and we are glad to learn that she is meeting with very encouraging success

Rev. T F Campbell, President of the College at Monmouth, Polk county, arrived in this city yesterday, and we learn that beside delivering a course of free lectures, it is his purpose to canvass among our citizens for help for his school

INSANE.—A man named Beach was examined yesterday for insanity and sent to the Insane Asylum. The unfortunate man seems to have totally lost his memory. He had until Saturday last been in charge of a gang of hands for Hart & Co., but remembers, now, nothing about it On all subjects requiring no exercise of memory, he talks rationally enough, but he cannot recall anything of the past.

AN INSTITUTION THAT IS NEEDED.—We learn that an omnibus line is talked of, to run from the N P T Co's dock and the ferry landing to the upper end of the city, or as far as the Oregon Iron Works, going on Front and First streets It is said that responsible parties are at the foundation of the enterprise The fare will be so inconsiderable as compared with the rates now charged for street passenger transportation, as to make it at once popular. Something of the kind is greatly needed A dollar or fifty cents for a ride of a dozen blocks is altogether too high for these times

How We Used to be Physicked

Who does not remember the time when spring purgation was considered indispensable to summer health? No matter if every face the inevitable salts and senna, rhubarb or calomel and jalap must be administered These spring medicines the youngsters were told, were to keep them hale and hearty during the summer We all know now that this was a fallacy that new vigor, not depletion is what is required at the commencement of the summer season As a preparation for the enervating effects of oppressive summer weather a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is highly expedient This famous vegetable preparation has three prominent properties It renovates purifies and regulates all the functions of the body It is composed exclusively of pure vegetable productions viz the essential principle of Monongahela Rye and the most efficient anti-bilious and alterative roots, barks and gums known to medical botanists Hence, it is an absolutely safe medicine and no tincture of the Pharmacopoeia can compare with it either in purity or in the variety of its objects and its comprehensive results Happily for mankind the theory that it was necessary to prostrate a patient in order to cure him is forever exploded, and the true philosophical doctrine, that vigor is the great antagonist of disease has taken its place Hostetter's Bitters is an invigorant, and hence it is the proper medicine for the feeble at this most trying season of the year.

Be sure that you obtain the genuine article, as there are innumerable vile imitations in the market Look to the ornamental stamp the engraved label and the name blown into the glass Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in bottles only

BY BAYARD TAYLOR.

I don't half live, penned up in-doors: a stove's not like the sun,
When I can't see how things go on, I fear they're badly done;
I might have farmed till now, I think—one's family is so queer—
As if a man can't oversee who's in his eightieth year.

Father, I mind, was eighty-five before he gave up his,
But he wasn't dim of sight and crippled with the rheumatiz.
I followed in his old, steady way, so he was satisfied,
But Reuben likes new-fangled things and ways I can't abide.

I'm glad I built this southern porch, my chair seems easier here;
I haven't seen as fine a spring this five and twenty year!
And how the time goes round so quick—a week I would have sworn,
Since they were husking on the flat, and now they're hoeing corn.

When I was young, time had for me a lazy ox's pace,
But now it's like a blooded horse, that means to win the race,
And yet I can't sit out my days, I tire myself with naught;
I'd rather use my legs and hands than plague my head with thought.

If father lived, I'd like to know what he would say to these
New notions of the young men, who farm with chemistries:
There's different stock and other grass, there's patent plow and cart—
Five hundred dollars for a bull! It would have broke his heart.

They think I have an easy time, no need to worry now,
Sit in the porch all day and watch them mow, and sow and plow;
Sleep in the summer in the shade, in winter in the sun,
I'd rather do the thing myself, and know just how it's done.

Well—I suppose I'm old, and yet, 'tis not so long ago
When Reuben spread the swath to dry, and Jesse learned to mow
And William raked, and Israel hoed, and Joseph pitched with me;
But such a man as I was then, my boys will never be!

I don't mind William's hankering for lectures and for books;
He never had a farming knack—you'd see it in his looks;
But handsome is that handsome does, and he is well to do;
'Twould ease my mind if I could say the same of Jesse too!

There's one black sheep in every flock, so there must be in mine,
But I was wrong the second time his bond to undersign;
It's less than what his shares will be—but there's the interest!
In two years more I might have had two thousand to invest.

There's no use thinking of it now, and yet it makes me sore;
The way I've saved and saved, I ought to count a little more.
I never lost a foot of land, and that's a comfort sure,
And if they do not call me rich, they cannot call me poor.

Well, well, ten thousand times I've thought the things I'm thinking now;
I've thought them in the harvest-field and in the clover mow.
And sometimes I get tired of them, and wish I'd something new—
But this is all I've seen and known, so what's a man to do?

The like my time is nearly out, of that I'm not afraid,—
I never cheated any man, and all my debts are paid;
Then of it rest that we shall have, but work would do no harm;
There can't be idlers there and fields, without some kind of farm!

Booth's Speech of Acceptance.

The following speech was delivered before the Republican Convention at Sacramento by [illegible] Booth in acceptance of the nomination [illegible] Governor of California:

[illegible] ascended the rostrum and said: After this generous reception and the marks of distinguished friendship I have received, I should be more or less than the man I am if I were not in my heart beyond the power of self command. If my sense of gratitude were bounded in the soul, I should be bankrupt in expression as I stand before you to-day. Beggar that I am, I am even poor in thanks. I accept, gentlemen, the nomination for Governor, and the platform you have put forth. [illegible] platform, not as an idle formality [illegible] not as [illegible] resting stone to office, but from [illegible] except it as the latest expression of the living faith of the party to which I am proud to belong. If political parties are anything other than combinations to seek office, they are public opinion organized; they are forces whose general direction is fixed. They are to be judged far better by their traditions, instincts and governing ideas than by any formal declaration of principles. Tried by this test, which party to-day best deserves the confidence and regard of the American people which as championed the great measures of human freedom and good government which has endeavored to direct the current of events in the grand channel of right, which has stood as a bar and obstruction until it has been swept forward by the sweeping tide. Both parties continue to-day the same organization that they did during the war. Each stands upon the history it has made. Can the Republican party ground arms in the presence of its old antagonist? We have heard much of the "new departure" of the Democracy. [Laughter and applause.] Perhaps it was time for the Democratic party to depart. [Laughter.] Sir, when a political party abandons its old ideas, its instincts, and its traditions it departs this life. [Applause.] For the first time in history we have the remarkable case of a suicide that insists upon holding an inquest upon its own body. [Laughter.] Sir, the republican party needs no new departure. [Applause.] It stands upon its history. It has written no chapters that it desires to tear out. Every page is emblazoned with glory. It can the record stand; the party will stand by the record. [Applause.] You, they tell us they will accept the policy of reconstruction as a hardly necessary. We adopt it as a living truth. They regard it as an obstruction which must be cut out of the road to office; we as a sacred principle baptized in the best blood of the land. [Applause.] The late Democratic candidate for Governor in Massachusetts was right when he said the American people would not sustain a the attitude of hostile vigilance which a the true interpretation of the [illegible] this Administration, while one of our war trophies was threatened. And what are these war trophies? They are not captured citadels and cities, not guns and flags, they are moral trophies—a republic saved from destruction, freedom made the law of the land. [Applause.] By these trophies the Republican party proposes to stand guard while the stars shine. [Applause.] We do not propose now, nor at any time, to rekindle the passions of the war; but we cannot forget its memories, and we would be false to ourselves, false to the dead, if we did not claim all the moral force bequeathed to us by the past, to accomplish every attainable good in the present and the future. [Applause.] But grandeur is the heritage of glory that has come down to us from the past, we cannot live upon that; we must meet living questions as living men, looking forward to the grand future. The party has saved the Government from an open foe, it must also protect it from an insidious enemy. [Applause.] The rebellion struck with bared arm in broad day, and with naked sword. There is a danger more alarming because more subtle, that comes as the stealthy poisoner, creeping in the dark; the corrupting power of money in shaping legislation and controlling political action. For us this question of subsidy and anti-subsidy has a far broader significance than any partial application would assign to it. It means purity of legislation; it means integrity of courts; it means the sacredness of private rights; it means that whatever a man has, whether it be broad acres or a narrow home, whatever he has acquired by his industry and enterprise, is his, his though he stand in a minority of one; his against the power of the world; no majority, no legislation, however potent, can make a private wrong a public right. [Applause and cheers.] It means this: Shall this Government be and remain a mighty agency of civilization, the protector of all, or shall it be run as a close corporation to enrich the few? [Applause.] Our party organizing public sentiment upon the question, proposes to organize that sentiment into living force so that the sacredness of individual right shall be protected by all the monuments of constitutional law. [Applause.] The instincts of our party are unchanged. In the recent European war we instinctively felt that the principle of the "solidarity of peoples" would be vindicated; that the old artificial system of balance of power, fruitful in wars and kingcraft, would be destroyed; that [illegible] not upon a central pivot, but upon broad, natural foundations; and if anywhere on earth there is a movement of liberal thought, the Republican party is in sympathy with that movement. [Applause.]

If there is an aspiration for human freedom, the Republican party is in sympathy with that aspiration. The country, the world, cannot afford that so generous an impulse in human forces should die; and it will not die. Let it be kept in accord with the moral laws ordained for the government of the world. Its defeats will be for a day, and its triumphs for all time. [Applause.]

A dispatch from Cincinnati, June 28th, says: The recent movement to enforce the Sunday laws is creating a commotion here, and will probably bring matters to a crisis. The German saloon keepers held a meeting to-day, and instructed a committee appointed by them to report resolutions at a future meeting for a rigid enforcement of the Sunday laws in all particulars. This, they believe, will make the law odious, and procure the repeal. It is proposed by some of them to close completely on Sunday, and to prosecute proprietors and carriers of newspapers, street car drivers, cigar venders, milkmen, paid church organists; and a mass meeting has been called by persons opposed to the present laws.

At the Indian Bureau in Washington, on the 15th ult., bids were opened to furnish beef on the hoof, at the reservations, for $1 66 per 100 lbs. Beef at less than two cents a pound is cheap enough for Lo.
